In addition to fully meeting all classroom education requirements* for CADC II/III certification, these degrees may be counted toward the professional work experience hours required for CADC II/III certification as follows:

- 1 A master's or doctorate degree from an accredited academic based institution may be used for 2000 hours of work experience which includes 500 hours of S.U.D. counseling experience with 125 hours of S.U.D. counseling one-to- one.
—OR—
- 2 A baccalaureate degree from an accredited academic based institution may be used for 1000 hours of work experience which includes 250 hours of direct S.U.D. counseling experience with 67 hours of S.U.D. counseling one to-one.
—OR—
- 3 An associate degree from an accredited academic based institution may be used for 500 hours of work experience which includes 125 hours of direct S.U.D. counseling experience with 33 hours of S.U.D. counseling one-to-one.

If an applicant is using a master's or doctorate degree for experience, the remaining 2,000 hours of work experience required for certification must be with clients who have a primary diagnosis of substance use disorder and must be under the direct supervision or in clinical consultation with a Clinical Supervisor. Applicants must supply an official transcript indicating completion of the course of study and the award of a degree.
